Minutes of Last Meeting 2018/11/27

By Jen Tseng

Pathways is a new, innovative education system from Toastmasters International headquarter, and Taiwan conducted this system since 2018. Although there is a guide in headquarter website, it is a little difficult to understand for busy, seldom access headquarter website members. For strengthen members' understanding, VPE invited a guest, Bright Huang from CECI Toastmasters Club to provide a variety speech tonight. The title of this special speech was "The Way to Your Path", and it delivered in Mandarin.

Tonight's first speaker was April Hsu. She had joined our club for seven years, we thought we had known her well. Since she delivered her ice breaker for starting her pathways, we had a great chance to understand why she chose DuPont and what kind of expectation she had for her career.

The second prepared speech speaker was Lily Lee. Her speech title was "Individual Travel Planning". There are many people nowadays like to travel alone, however many people failed and had a bad memory for individual travel. Lily shared her tips including how to book a cheap airplane, how to book a reasonable hotel. Lily's English ability is good for travelling alone, but language is the most barrier for many people. Joining our club and attending meeting regularly could overcome this barrier.

Vincent Chao was tonight's table topic master. Vincent is humorous and funny person, however he gave some serious questions to ask attendees to make a self-examination. For example, we always have many complaints about Government, but what we will do if we have the power to solve some problems. Also, how you do to recover your mind if the result of vote depressed you is an important thing for Taiwanese within these weeks. Vincent gave us a chance to think these questions.

Overall, tonight was a great night and all attendees satisfied by wonderful speech.
